

- The Mediterranean rim is particularly affected by the crisis and uncertainties time at the sociological, cultural and political levels
- The ICM is interested in the collective process. As a higher education institute, our structure has to participate to this dynamique, on a Mediterranean scale
- How to think about uncertainty on anthropological and theological grounds?
- How to articulate deconstructions, reconstructions, singularités and affiliations?
- Religions could be part of the solution. How to promote their dialogues and collaborations?

Institut Catholique de la Méditerranée

Centre le Mistral

11 impasse Flammarion 13001 Marseille

icm13.com

icm@icm13.com - 04 91 50 35 50

Which partnerships?

The ICM's global network

The major religions' leaders

Churches from the Mediterranean rim

The Mediterranean inter-ministerial delegation

The Metropoles (Nice-Côte D'Azur, Toulon, Aix-Marseille-Provence)

Departments, the « Sud » Region

Universities and faculties

A steering team

Robert Botteghi : supervising the project mission « Maison de la Sagesse », and funding researcher.

Patrice Chocholski : ICM Director, project coordination

Colette Hamza : ISTR Director (institut de sciences et théologie des religions - Institute of Religions Sciences and Theology)

Pierre Langeron : ICM President, partnerships

Christophe Roucou : Director of programs for the « Maison de la Sagesse », Manager of the Relations with Islam pole

Bernard Valero : international relations project manager – partnerships (collectivities, universities, delegation to the Mediterranean...)

The Mediterranean in Times of Uncertainties

Paths of Dialogue

Between cultures, humanisms and religions

PROCESS

The Mediterranean in times of uncertainty

- Contemporary multidimensional crisis challenge us deeply on individual and collective level .
- They confront us to a wide range of issues : social and human (social justice), economic, migration, climate and environment, digitals, geostrategic and politics, cultural and intergenerations.
- Facing these crisis we have tools such as the coordination of local, national and European actors, territorial diplomacy and Mediterranean cooperation.
- Therefore, the dialogue between cultures, humanisms and religion is a necessity which urgently imposed upon. State of uncertainty and concerns constitute a call for dialogue.

Reflexion laboratories

Moving Identities

- Singularities
- Affiliation
- Identities

Mediterranean and territories, from « their home » to « ours ».

- Environment, sustainable and inclusive development,
- Interdependences, demography,
- Public policies

How to think about uncertainty on anthropological and theological grounds?

- Anthropology
- Philosophy
- Theology
- Religions' science

How to overcome divisions by education?

- Dialogue in education, arts and culture fields.

Les prochaines étapes

1

Saturday 2
octobre at the Mistral

Conference of Dominique
Bourel :

From Vienna
to Florence, Buber and the Mediterranean

2

Cycles of conferences,
debates,
ideas,
workshops,
experience
sharing

3

A web page on the ICM site
with videos,
possibility to
share through social networks and
webinars

4

Seminars and publications
Masterclass

5

In the Sud
Region,
between Marseille and Nice

On the Mediterranean
shores